Large-Flowering Dutch Hyacinths

DUTCH IRIS

This is the most satisfactory of all the spring-flowering Iris. The large flowers, borne on strong stems, are very fine as cut-flowers but are also effective in beds and borders in the garden. For best effect plant them close together in groups of five or more. They follow the May-flowering tulips in blooming season. Dutch Iris may be left in the ground for years if planted in a sunny location.

BEDDING HYACINTHS

Hyacinths were so very scarce for a number of years that it is especially good to welcome them to the garden again. These bedding-size bulbs will give an excellent effect in one-color or multi-color beds. They also may be combined in plantings with other spring bulbs, giving magnificent flower trusses on strong stems.
